Ignatian Award Given to Kate Mahern

Sacred Heart Parishioner Kate Mahern has received the Ignatian Award from Creighton University where she is the Director of the Legal Clinic at Creighton's Law School. One characteristic of the Ignatian Spirit is being with and for others and Kate has dedicated her life to serving those in need. As one nominator wrote, "The way she gets angry when a poor person is harmed by the system, the way she gets excited when a student wins a case in court for an indigent client who otherwise would have lost certain rights and privileges, the way she becomes supportive when a friend becomes ill or harmed." All these and more reveal Kate as a woman of faith and strength. She walks the walk and if you could follow her you would be amazed as she teaches, visits sick friends, and helps a client move his belongings because he is being evicted. She does all this and more while she is raising two young men to be persons of conscience themselves. We join Creighton University in thanking God for the gift of Kate Mahern and celebrate her winning this year's St. Ignatius Award. Congratulations, Kate, from your parish!
